

Mark Denton, VP Business Development

After graduating from Georgia Southern University in 1978 with a Bachelor of Business Administration, Mark entered the retail propane business where he currently has over 42 years' experience in management and sales. Mark has held several management and sales positions with three different companies in the retail propane business from Branch Manager, Area Manager, Sales Manager, Regional Vice President and finally Vice President, Business Development, his current position with Blossman Gas, Inc.

Throughout his career, Mark has been active in the propane motor fuel "autogas" business promoting propane as a clean alternative fuel to gasoline. In the past 12 years, he has focused 100% of his time on promoting propane autogas as a clean, economical, domestically produced alternative to gasoline for fleets. His current responsibilities include account management for major autogas accounts as well as national major account sales. He served as President of the Alabama Propane Gas Association in 2008/2009 and continues to be active in that association. Mark is an active member of The National Propane Gas Association currently serving as the Alabama State Director.

Mark and his wife Kelly have been married for 40 years and they live in Spanish Fort, Alabama. They have three grown children and seven grandchildren.